INTRODUCTION

In the modern life, learning English is increasingly popular all over the world. Thus, speaking skills are essential to speak fluently in English. The majority of English learners are coming across some challenges which are related to speaking. In order to advance this skill, self-study is crucial for students. By self-study, students can make better their speaking skills easily. Improvement of speaking skills is related to self-study a lot due to the fact that students usually extend their much time with themselves.

There are many kinds of techniques to improve speaking skills with self-study. We will recommend you effective ways of self-study speaking. Self-study is one of the main factors to improve speaking skills. By self-study, students don't spend money to study speaking courses. What's more, self-study speaking saves time. As, students have much time to speak by self-study at home. But, they have no chance to do speaking with teachers or peers. In order to enhance speaking by self-study, students should be strict themselves. Now we will suggest some techniques to improve speaking skills by self-study.

To learn topics by writing them (Alex Radyushin)

This strategy is quite helpful to improve speaking by yourself. Initially students choose a topic and read several samples are related to topic. Then, they ought to write their own idea and knowledge. After writing topic, they should check their mistakes and prepare to speak. This tip helps to memorize quickly. By doing this students cannot forget topic vocabularies, ideas and structures. Writing topic by hand is useful to remember for a long time instead of learning by heart ready samples. By writing topics, students can enhance not only their speaking skills, but also their grammar skills. When I was an applicant, my English tutor taught this strategy to improve speaking. Therefore, I learned each topic by writing them. After two months, my speaking level increased fast.

Build your vocabulary (Jaro education).

Vocabulary memorization plays a basic role to make better speaking. If students have not enough vocabulary, they cannot speak well. So, it is suggested that topic vocabulary is so useful. Topic vocabulary can rise both students speaking skills and their marks in IELTS exam. The usage of dictionaries can go up students' vocabulary. For example, wisdom dictionary is one of the best apps to use. Students can find many words with synonyms, antonyms and examples. It will be excellent if students memorize vocabulary every day by self-study.

Don't forget to have fun while you learn (Guest Writer).

During self-study speaking, students are bored. If they don't get a relax from tasks, students cannot develop. Now I will advise some funny games.

Photo Story

Storytelling is essential for captivating your audience and ensuring that they remember what you're saying. Find an intriguing photo online and video yourself telling a story about it to practice building narratives. Discuss the history, who the characters are, their dreams, motivations, and everything else that will help you create a captivating storyline about them. For instance, one can randomly present a picture of a toy or any cartoon character and spontaneously make up a story about it.

Commercial act

Public Speaking is all about persuading and selling a concept, you should hone your advertising and organizational skills to be the best you can be. In this public-speaking game make a one-minute ad on anything you have in your house. Record yourself explaining what makes it unique, how it can improve people's lives and why everyone should have it in their possession (Rwiti Mukherjee)

Watch movies, TV shows, and the news (Tom Cox).

Students are not bored during self-study if they watch such kind of TV shows. Moreover, students are interested in improving speaking by watching native speakers. After watching, students should try to speak what she saw. Watching movies, TV shows and the news give multiple benefits to improve pronunciation, listening and speaking.

Conclusion. Improving speaking skills by self-study is more difficult, but with various activities, students can enhance their level. Although speaking skill gets some time to advance, it is extremely important to speak fluently in English. It requires only working hard, time and action.
