

ADVANTAGES AND DISADVANTAGES OF USING INTERNET

Yunusova Nargiza Baxodirovna

English teacher Tashkent region Academic Lyceum of the Ministry of the Internal Affairs of the Republic of Uzbekistan.

Abstract: This article is about pros and cons of Internet, the culture of using social medias, ways to use the Internet safely and the basics of its reasonable use, the Internet importance in education, problems and information in the use of information among young people about the unique methods of culture formation.

Key words: Internet, usage culture, safe use of the Internet, young people, information, culture, education.

Our first President Islam Abduganievich, President of the Republic of Uzbekistan thoughts on the use of the Internet: "We use the Internet for the store we can compare, we can find everything there. From there, it's up to each person takes what he needs. If we can learn how to get what we need from the internet, no attacks can affect the minds of our highly moral youth."

The Internet is the only popular computer network in demand today uncertainty about all areas, that is, abstracted to our mind is a source of information that provides open, simple and fluent information about concepts.

Naturally, the number of people who need this factor is increasing day by day is going This network is a global network worldwide. Because it exists news text, video and audio services and a range of opportunities are creating great relief on all fronts, however on the other hand, it is involuntarily attracting humanity to the virtual world. Teenagers are especially affected by this. In this regard the words of experts prove the following results: positivity on the Internet every person has important concrete evidence related to science, field and activity it is clear as day that it leads to convenience and a corresponding amount of time saving, but out of curiosity, too much information on the Internet they give up. Inquisitiveness, intellectual development, observation, analytical ability and memory causing a decrease in the level of acuity. It is known that the use of the Internet is not compulsory for anyone and the law should be based on rules and the standard requirements in it, that is, the correct selection of information from the Internet in all respects appropriate. It can be seen that this network is included in the tool the scale of information is so wide and numerous that we sometimes need it it also makes it difficult for us to extract data.

The 21st century is the century of information technology development. Today's world development information network - it is difficult to imagine without the Internet. It is known that Internet information and united computer networks that ensure mutual exchange of documents is an international system. The Internet has opened the door to a wide range of opportunities. Without going out of the house walking through the world's libraries through the global network, to the other side of the earth to be a remote (virtual) student of a higher education institution located on the outskirts, even electronic services (translation of texts, preparation of video and audio products giving, pagination of books and brochures, etc.) by contract, making money can be found. So, there are many positive aspects of the Internet. What about the convenience of social networks or messengers? Online conferences transfer, online training, quick, cheap video with loved ones and acquaintances or audio communication. These are the reasons why the internet is so attractive these days leaving behind television, radio and other media. But the Internet has many useful aspects as well as negative consequences is doing the lack of culture of information consumption among the population, especially among young people, is different lack of knowledge, skills and skills in extracting what is needed from the flow of messages internet addiction that some people fall under the influence of malicious people and currents causing them to get sick. The constitutional reform in Uzbekistan is evolutionary in many ways in the life of the society as a result of changes, to fully ensure and protect the interests of citizens requires that it be determined at the legislative level in one way or another.

In the third part of Article 33 of the draft of the new version of the Constitution, the whole world Internet access rights are guaranteed: "State Internet World Information creates conditions for ensuring the use of the network". Today the development of information and communication technologies continues in Uzbekistan is happening, the number of Internet users is increasing, which is the global Internet network demands that the inviolability of the right of access be enshrined in the basic law, and this, in turn, is a norm that regulates relations on the Internet to form and improve the legal framework. 95 percent of the population in Uzbekistan mobile internet, and up to 70 percent of high-speed wired internet coverage and it should be noted that it continues to grow. Also included changes to the further development of the digital economy and its gross by the end of 2026 aimed at increasing its share in domestic product at least 2.5 times "Digital is a constitutional guarantee of the implementation of the "Uzbekistan-2030" strategy. Any country, when defining its development path, first plans for the future, it will certainly increase attention to young people. Based on this, it is today One of the most important issues facing the world community today is the issue of youth. Today's age of advanced technologies and information space is very wide for young people along with creating opportunities, a great risk in the form of harmful information forming. It is one of the factors that have a negative impact on the future of such young people in order to preserve them, it is necessary to develop information culture among young people and, in turn, this society has a high level of political literacy shows a positive effect. Humanity is still young as it fights for tomorrow profound reforms in all respects for the formation of the generation as worthy successors to implement and to form the sense of responsibility of young people is required. The reason is that the goals set for young people are strictly followed also creates the required standards. Young people as information consumers first of all, to understand the classification of information, to fully understand the possibilities of their use, understand the principles of self-protection against the influence of harmful information fields, fully understanding the standards required when using modern media scientifically based conclusions about the growth are the demand of today.

REFERENCES::

1. Mirziyoyev Sh.M. Free and prosperous, democratic country of Uzbekistan "We will build together."
2. Law of the Republic of Uzbekistan "On Education", 23.09.2020. New Constitution of the Republic of Uzbekistan.